Staying in Space

宇宙に滞在する ①

教科書 P.10

CD I-7-8

1 Q: What are meals like in space?

---

2 A: There are about 150 kinds of space food.

---

3 Drinks are kept in pouches with straws, and bread is made for

---

one bite.

---

4 This is because there is no gravity in space.

---

5 It means that drops of water and food crumbs will float in the air

---

forever.

---

6 They are dangerous because they may get into your eyes, mouth,

---

or nose.

---

宇宙に滞在する ②

教科書 P.12

CD I-12-1

7 Q: What happens to the human body in space?

---

8 A: You know that there is no gravity in space, so there will be

---

some changes.

---

9 First, your spine is relaxed and stretched out.

---

10 Therefore, you will be a few centimeters taller.

---

11 Second, the liquid in your body goes up.

---

12 As a result, your face looks puffy, and your legs become thinner

---

than usual.

---

10 In the U.S., there are strict guidelines for children's TV shows.

11 Some changes were made for this reason.

12 Here are some examples.

13 Noby eats sliced apples instead of sweets, because Americans want children to eat healthy food.

14 In the original version, Big G sometimes hits Noby.

15 Those scenes are softened in the U.S. show.

16 As you can see, American Doraemon is different from Japanese

Doraemon.

17 Now children in the U.S. can enjoy the show too.
